You have just seen the following announcement in an international magazine for young people:

Have you ever been caught in extreme or unusual weather conditions? If you have, we'd love to hear about your experience. What happened? How did you feel?
A selection of the best articles on this subject will be published in next month's issue.

Write 120-180 words.

Use the plan below to write an article:

1 – set the scene (who-when-where-what);

2,3 – describe the events before the main event and the main event itself;

4 – end the story.

Once, I have been caught in extreme weather condition. It was one year ago in October. I was going home from school when the weather began to getting bad slowly. There were not any people ⁱⁿ the street. I was alone. However, I did not pay attention on it and continued my way to house.

Suddenly, the heavy rain was started and the sky was absolutely dark. I was a bit scared and started going faster. I was really wet and cold.

Moreover, the rain did not stop and moreover, it started snowing. It was like a snowfall.

Fortunately, I was near the house. Anyway, I was cold and fell ill on the next day. I have never been caught in such extreme weather conditions before. It was the worst experience in my life.
